ReadyQual

A prequalification tool to turn consumers into borrowers faster!

Here's how:

- Lenders qualify more borrowers across demographics with the help of soft inquiry credit reports and without the need for TRID disclosures.
- As a prequalification tool, ReadyQual only requires name and address, so it moves applicants quickly through the process and then feeds
- instantly-prequalified consumers into full loan applications.
- With a customized web link, this easy, online software application allows lenders to present their products and services directly to borrowers on their own website.
- And using these customized web links, Loan Officers can even promote their sales efforts further by putting the link to their ReadyQual page on local business web sites such as car dealerships, home improvement centers, realtors, and more.
